I. O. O. F.—The installation of the Odd Fellows will take place at the A. P. A. Hall, on Tuesday, Oct. 3d.

A number of Brothers from different Lodges in this State are expected to be present, and a good time generally is anticipated.

THE HOP.—The Hop at the Burrell House, last Friday evening, was a very pleasant affair. Although the number present was not very large, they all seemed to be lively and everything passed off finely, with one exception—that there were too many gentlemen unaccompanied by ladies.

NEW PAPERS.—The second number of the Brighton Bulletin, published at Brighton, Livingston county, has been received by us. It is a neat little five column paper, edited by A. G. Blood, and bears evidence of prosperity.

Our Young Folks' Illustrated Paper is the name of a new semi-monthly eight-page publication, the first number of which has been received, published by E. C. Allen & Co., Augusta, Me., at $1.00 per year.

THAT BRIDGE.—Last Friday night a vessel, which was being towed down the river, ran against the bridge, lifting it entirely from the pivot, and crippling it to a great extent. After some difficulty the bridge was swung around far enough to admit of a plank being laid from the south side to a pile driven in the river, and the bridge being made fast by a rope, persons would walk the plank and then jump to the bridge. Nice little structure that. It was repaired next morning.

CLOTHES CUT.—Don't forget that to-morrow and next day J. F. Schadt, with C. R. Hawley & Co., Bay City, will be on hand at the Burrell House, in this city, for the purpose of taking measures for suits of clothing of all kinds, vests, pants, coats, overcoats, etc. Mr. S. will exhibit samples of the goods, so that you will have no trouble to select to suit your own taste. C. R. Hawley are well known to many of our citizens, and we can assure the public generally that all goods ordered of them will be of a first-class make, and no shoddy work.

CORRUPT.—We are informed that a den of low repute has been established in this city, which is daily and nightly the scene of corruption and vice beyond description. How true this is we are unable to say, but we have been furnished with a list of about eighty names of those who have degraded themselves sufficiently to encourage the infamy by their patronage, some of whom are married men, and supposed to be respectable. If such a den does exist, it should be looked after by the authorities, and dealt with according to the nature of the offense.

ENLARGED (?)—The Pioneer last week came to us enlarged and very much improved in appearance. It has heretofore been published as a seven-column sheet 22x32 inches, but it now contains thirty-six columns. Its typographical appearance is better than we ever saw it before, and we are glad that our neighbor has at last seen the necessity of making this improvement. But hold! What does this mean? We find that this enlargement is not so great a thing after all, inasmuch as that portion issued from the Pioneer office in now only 22x28, and the old size was 22x32. Alas, one half is printed at Milwaukee, or some other place where they print "patent outside" for country papers that are too poor to do their own work. To be sure, the paper looks much better, but neighbor, we are sorry to see this one-horse plan adopted, as we think a business that does not pay to do and do it properly, does not pay at all. As for us, when we get so low in our business that we can print but one side of our paper, we will give up the ghost in despair.

A WEEK'S HUNT.—On Wednesday of week before last Mayor Carpenter, Geo. Richardson and Henry Bolton, of this city, started for Hubbard Lake to have a little hunt. On arriving at the lake they found the game plenty and fishing splendid, and between hunting and fishing the time was spent very pleasantly. The lake abounds with nearly every variety of lake fish, and they seemed to find their share of them. At one time when Mr. Richardson hauled in his trolling line to take the weeds from the hook, he was surprised to find the "weeds" turn out to be a fourteen pound pickerel. Game was abundant, and Mr. Carpenter succeeded in bringing one deer to the ground. Mr. Bolton also had a shot at a fine deer, but it being his first trial, the game escaped without a scratch, but we learn that Henry is recovering from his attack of the "buck fever." Better luck next time we trust. The party shot sixty partridges, and caught any quantity of fish. They returned to this city last Thursday, after having a good time and enjoying themselves to the best of their ability. While at the lake they made their headquarters at the residence of David Stewart, where they received every care and attention.
